There was a wide smile on the face of Connor Hoch, the number one singles player at Chippewa Valley. A senior, he knows this season is his last hurrah in high school tennis.

“It’s nice to actually come out and play and not have to worry about whether or not there is going to be a season. Especially since it is my senior year. I really wanted to play this year. I was worried, especially because it went on so long. They had already cancelled the football season,” said Hoch.

Chippewa Valley begins the school year in remote learning.

Both Hoch and Adam Amodei, a doubles player for the Big Reds, would prefer to be in the classroom. L’Anse Creuse North offers both in-classroom and virtual learning.
